

ELECTRIC VEHICLES ARE ON THE MOVE

Electric vehicles run on electricity and come in all shapes and sizes.

You can plug in your car at home or on the road to charge the battery with electricity.

The battery stores energy to power the car for hundreds of miles.

Electricity comes from renewable and nonrenewable energy sources.

Engineers work to make more places to plug in and charge your car.