

COAL CAN POLLUTE THE AIR

When coal is burned, it can pollute the air.

Power plants and factories work hard to keep the pollution from getting into the air. They clean the coal before they burn it. They use scrubbers to clean the smoke before it goes into the air.